Throughout my 6-year-plus career as a software developer, I have focused on developing scalable and well-documented codes. I enjoy working collaboratively but can also run projects independently. Excited about the prospects of joining a product-driven company.

As a dedicated problem-solver, I display expert skills in backend development using PHP, Laravel, Codeigniter, Python, React, Vue, and supporting languages/libraries/frameworks that solve real-world problems through code.

Through my time freelancing at Upwork and earning the Top Rated rank, I have gained further hands-on experience in industry-standard development.

Willing to relocate: Anywhere
